In tribute of her outstanding military career, breaking glass ceilings, and becoming the first female IDF general; for her parliamentary activities as a member of the Knesset, its Deputy Speaker and Chair of its Foreign Affairs and Defense Committee; for serving as a feminist role model striving for gender equity by example; and for her vital role in combatting the rising cost of living as the Minister of the Economy and Industry.

In honor of her life-long commitment to improve the lives of women and to serve as a role model for gender equality, for her role in breaking the glass ceiling in the IDF, and for her legislative work as a member of the Knesset, its Deputy Speaker and Chair of its Foreign Affairs and Defense Committee, as well as her efforts as a minister to combat the rising cost of living in Israel.